Matrix Pro

The ideal sit-to-stand desk

Welcome to Markant

Markant develops and offers office solutions with people's well-being in mind. We believe the most valuable asset to any company is not only their people, but also their health. After all, healthy employees are more productive, happier and enjoy longer employability.

Our goal is to offer you the ideal office solution.

The importance of a sit-stand desk

Starting from breakfast time, office staff would end up spending the day sitting too much and too long. In this technological age, we have made our lives easier. Groceries can be delivered straight to the door; automated lawn-mowers are readily available at our bidding to mow the lawn for us while we sit back at the couch watching Netflix. Prolonged sitting has become a norm in our modern lifestyle.

Sitting for long hours at the office has also become part and parcel of working life. The negative effects of prolonged sitting are becoming evidently clearer as it has been proven to pose serious threats to our health. For example, our brains work slower as a result and there is an increased risk of obesity, Type II Diabetes, heart failure and even certain types of cancer. Therefore, it is our goal to encourage movement for a healthier working environment. Alternating between sitting and standing is a good first step towards a healthier and positive lifestyle.

Our new Matrix Pro represents the next innovative step for aiding the alternation between sitting and standing. The worktop can be swiftly and silently adjusted to the desired height. Through the cable management system solutions, the desk always looks tidy in any position..

Neat appearance

Thanks to its large rectangular frame, the Matrix Pro has a robust appearance that matches its qualities. Its fully integrated cable management system offers more than enough space for all cabling to be stored out of sight but easily accessible.

Cabling like a pro

All Matrix Pro accessories can be installed before the worktop is mounted. This allows for an easy installation of all equipment and its cables in the absence of a normally obstructing worktop. Even the monitors can be installed in advance. This gives you plenty of room to work and enables you to comfortably see what you're doing.

Even if the worktop has already been mounted, all the cabling work remains easily accessible. The lid of the central cable tray can be kept open with magnets, and with the optional Fast Fix fastener, the worktop can be attach and detach directly by hand.

Articulated arm

For routing the cables from the worktop to the cable tray.

Magnetic lid holder

As the lid is held up magnetically, you can easily reach the cabling.

Easy cable tray installation
No additional tools are required for assembly.

Media hub

Removable screens
The upholstered screens are easy to remove and reassemble.

Multidrawer
